OPEN Q&A

Submit your questions live on the call in the Zoom Q&A field. We will pick and choose the best the questions to answer.

There are many students on this call, all at different points in their publishing journey. We receive many questions and do our best to choose the ones that are applicable and helpful to the majority of attendees on this call.

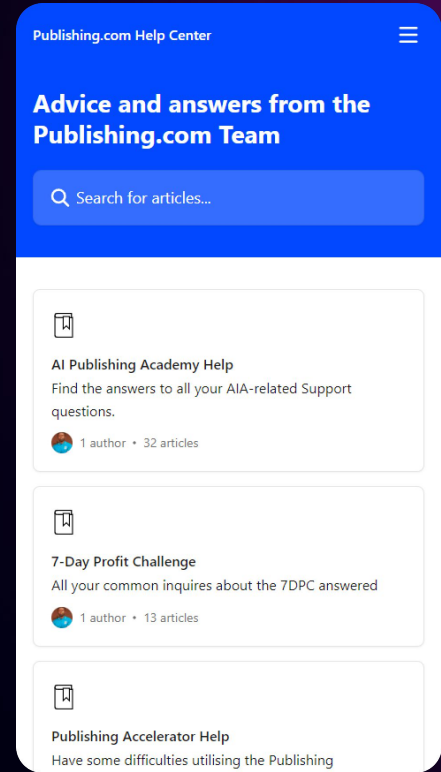

We would rather spend more time going deep into a good question rather than rushing from one question to the next. Therefore, we will pick and choose the best questions.

Visit our Help Center at help.publishing.com

- Account related (resetting password, Facebook group, etc.)
- KDSpy, incognito, Chrome etc.
- 7 Day Profit Challenge
- Pen names

In the Help Center, you will find clear answers (with videos) to all of these questions, so we will likely skip all questions related to these topics.

And someone say that If I publish book on USA and CA, UK then there account able to write a review on that market.

I want to figure it out what is exact reality is?

I am starting my second book for my bundle pack. I created the outline for my first book through publishing.AI.

How do I create my outline for my second book and make sure it doesn't overlap too much without buying for the first book?

Liza Torres

When checking if your book topic has been trademarked... do I have to check again once I have the exact book title?

And I'm confused as to why I check on the trademark for the book concept vs. the book title in the first place. Thanks in advance.

Liza Torres

When checking for proof of concept in KD spy, does the POC have to be proven within the first 20 titles?

I ask because I usually have to click on a button to have it upload the next set of titles, and it does about 20 at a time, so I'm wondering if I should load the first 100 before checking how many titles pass the test of POC for that specific book topic idea.

I have created a manuscript for the 7-day challenge and paid for and purchased the course. I now need to proofread and edit it. I have Grammarly Pro and have added the recommended changes. I want to know the best order of proofing and editing the manuscript.

I also had concerns when I got a very high number for the AI content on Grammarly. Is there a percentage we should target for AI content using Grammarly?

I have the manuscript from the 7-day challenge and have now purchased the course. I assume I can expand the manuscript to 30,000 words without using the credits I purchased with the course.

I got 2 with the course and a bonus of $2000 for future credits. Thanks

My book is “Intermittent Fasting for Women Over 50.” Since that’s already more than the number of words in the suggestion for the main title (2-6), how can I make it unique to follow the suggestion that it should stand out from the others? Will I have to do that in the subtitle instead? Thanks.

Patrick

Hi coaches

Can you please look at these titles for me

I published my first book in January and I am in the process of listening to my book being narrated by someone and have found some mistakes I have made (one paragraph was said twice; in a different way but they are only one page apart from one another). Should I go make the changes or leave it the way it is at this point?

I've only listened to the first chapter - afraid what is to come! lol

Martha DeLaine

I can't seem to get POC on: Managing Caregiver Stress & Burnout, Caring for Aging Parents. or Gardening. Did 32 Incognitos searches, to no avail.

I used publishing.ai & chatGpt for ideas. None panned out!

Do you have some suggestions to help me? Dani, on my previous coaching call suggested I use the amazon search bar to determine niched down topics. Nothing worked for me! I would appreciate any help. Thanks

Kelly Stamper

Hi Coaches! This is for Brian (I hope he's there!) - My question is about when we should use 'Top of Search' and 'Rest of Search'? (I've seen you do that with other people.) Also, should we ever use fixed bids?

Hi coaches! Hi Coaches, I just had my book formatted with UBF in 24 hours!, and I have a few questions:

My manuscript contains 30,206 words, but after formatting, the book is only 112 pages instead of the expected 120-140 pages. Is this normal/ok?

I can't seem to open the .epub file. UBF recommended using Calibre, but it requires payment. Are there any free alternatives I can use to view it?

While reviewing my PDF file, I noticed that the mid-review page spans two pages. Shouldn't it fit on a single page? Do you know why this might have happened?

What information do I need to provide the designer for my paperback and audiobook covers?

Should I give them the word count from my manuscript (30206K) or the 112 pages from my formatted book?
