The logo consists of the letters 'FYI' in a bold, white, sans-serif font, centered on a blue rectangular background that has a slightly distressed or torn edge effect.

There are many students on this call, all at different points in their publishing journey. We receive many questions and do our best to choose the ones that are applicable and helpful to the majority of attendees on this call.

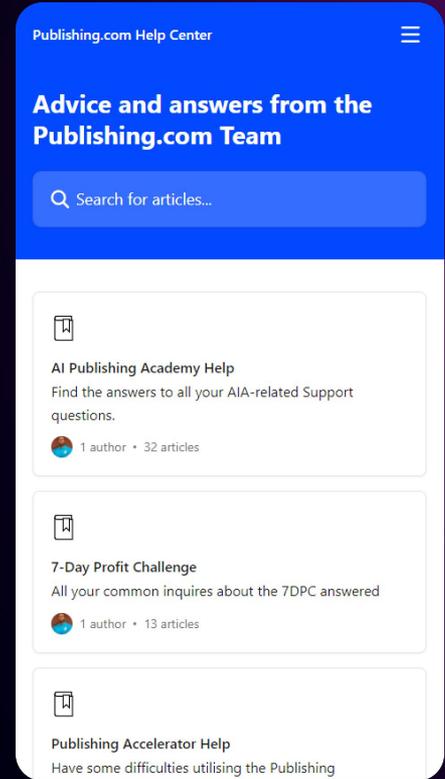

We would rather spend more time going deep into a good question rather than rushing from one question to the next. Therefore, we will pick and choose the best questions.

what do you think about this title: transformative life skills for teens and young adults: Take charge of your finances, balance your time, and build your self esteem for a future without debt, increased productivity without burnout, and lasting unshakable confidence.

if there are two people working on the business, who's account's should be used to publish the books? or does it not matter?

are we still using ghostwriters at all? or are we good to rely on AI?

Would an adult humor book relating to the 2020 and 2024 elections run afoul of Amazon's content restriction. Are the content restrictions just applied to the cover or do they cover the content as well?

Hello really hoping this will be answered on today's Tuesday call -

Thank you for the feedback I received on my title last time - the recommendation was to add more emotion & excitement to the title and that "navigating park rules" may not be a strong enough pain point. Please critique the following 3 title/subtitles:

RV Camping in National Parks for Beginners: The Complete Guide to Mastering Campground Reservations, Exploring Nature Safely, and Unlocking the Secrets to a Stress-free, Fun-filled trip

RV Camping in National Parks for Beginners: Your Complete Guide to Mastering Campground Reservations, Exploring Nature Safely, and Making Incredible Memories in the Great Outdoors

Hi Coaches,

I just want to find out the difference between Pubby, Book Bounty and Bookblaze) and how they operate. Is there any difference in their Operations.

Thanks

Rob Pendell

Hi coaches, continuing the polishing process of my title. Here's the latest. What do you think?

Mindfulness for Busy Adults:

A Personalized Quick and Easy Guide to Reducing Stress, Calming Anxiety, and Overcoming Negative Thought Patterns—Even When You're Overwhelmed. (171)

I'm trying to decide whether "Even when you're..." or "Even if you're..." is better for the ending.

Thank-you for all the feedback in this process, you guys/gals ROCK!

Tommy O'Gorman

I have a few questions regarding how these credits work:

1. Could you please explicitly explain how the credits are calculated? Does the "30 remaining" apply collectively to all features, or is it specific to a certain feature? In other words, is it 30 uses in total across all features, or 30 per feature?
2. About me and why I'm writing this book:
  - I have 14 years of experience as a financial trader, specializing in options, futures, forex, and crypto.
  - Given my background, I've chosen investing & financial markets as the topic for my first book.
  - I want to provide valuable insights for Students beginners and young adults looking to build a strong financial foundation.
3. I did research using Amazon and KD Spy and found:

Which of these two would you recommend focusing on for my first book, based on market demand and competition?

  - "Investing" as a category has 3,500 books
  - "The Intelligent Investor" has 12,500 books
4. For the book title, here are some ideas I have in mind:

I would appreciate your feedback on these title options.

  - The Power of Investment
  - Mastering Investment
  - Stress-Free Investment
  - The Power of the Intelligent Investor
  - Mastering the Intelligent Investor
  - Stress-Free Intelligent Investor

Tommy O'Gorman

5. For subtitles, I am considering:

Given that I am designing this book for late teenagers and young adults, which subtitle direction do you think would best capture this audience while keeping it engaging?

- How to Build a Profitable Portfolio, Achieve Financial Freedom, and Travel the World
- The Business Students & Adult Guide to Financial Freedom
- Strategic Management for Business Success and Early Retirement

6. Lastly, I plan to release a second book on self-help & personal development, aligning with the strategies discussed in the second module about selling two books at once. This book will incorporate my 20 years of experience in meditation, traveling the world, psychology, spirituality, and mindfulness.

Do you have any strategic advice on how to align my first investing book with the follow-up self-help book to optimize sales and engagement?

7. Publishing AI & Personal Experience:

- When using Publishing AI to create the book, would it be more effective to personally add my own experience and insights into the book?
- Or should I let the AI research and generate content based purely on market research without my personal input?
- Would a mix of both AI-generated content and my personal experience be the best approach?

I truly appreciate your time and guidance on these questions. Looking forward to your insights!

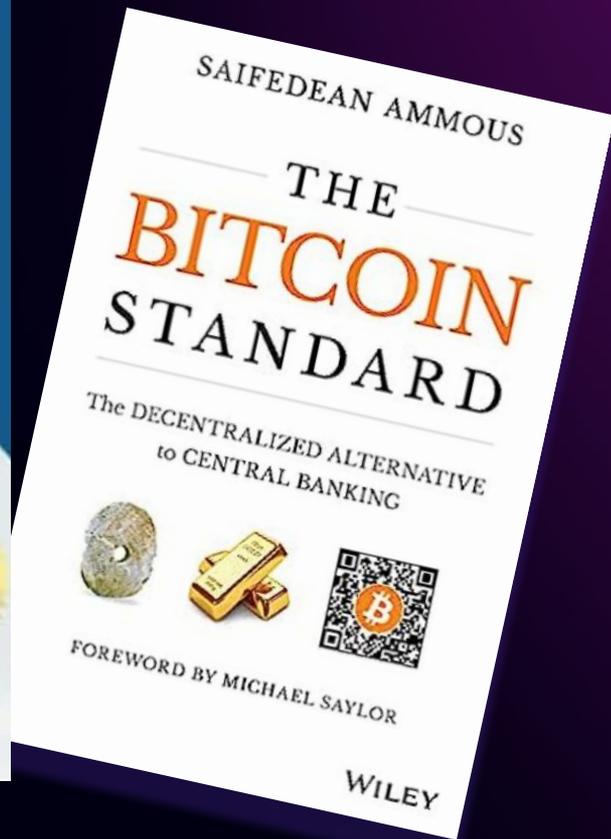

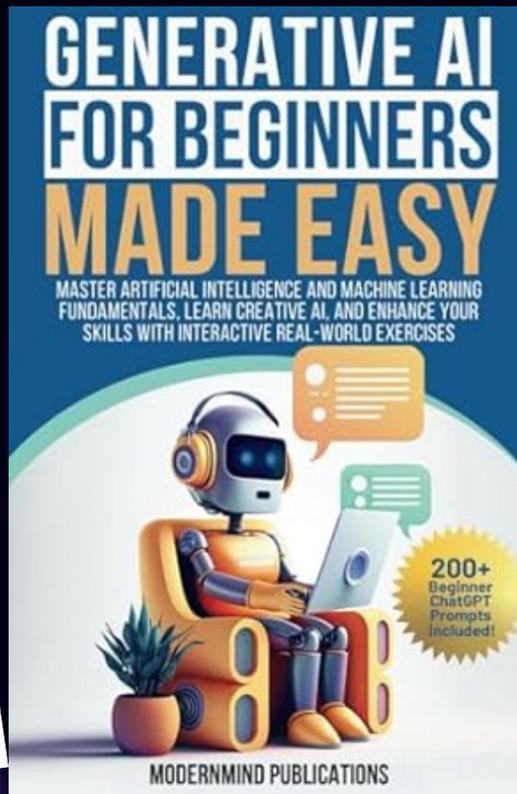

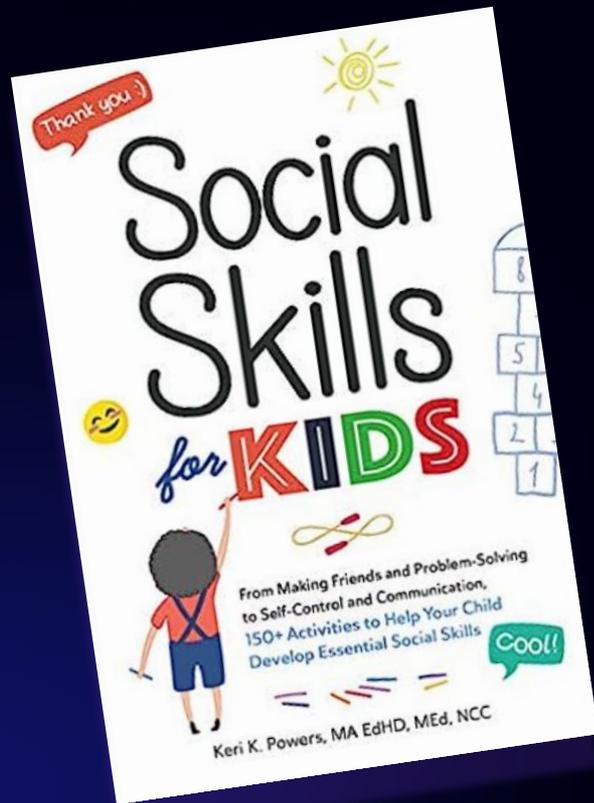

Best regards,

Tommy O'Gorman

My designer asked me to confirm the size of the Ebook design. Is it 2,560 pixels in height by 1,600 pixels in width 300ppi RGB? All I know is that my book size is 6"x9"
