Submit your questions live on the call in the Zoom Q&A field. We will pick and choose the best the questions to answer.

There are many students on this call, all at different points in their publishing journey. We receive many questions and do our best to choose the ones that are applicable and helpful to the majority of attendees on this call.

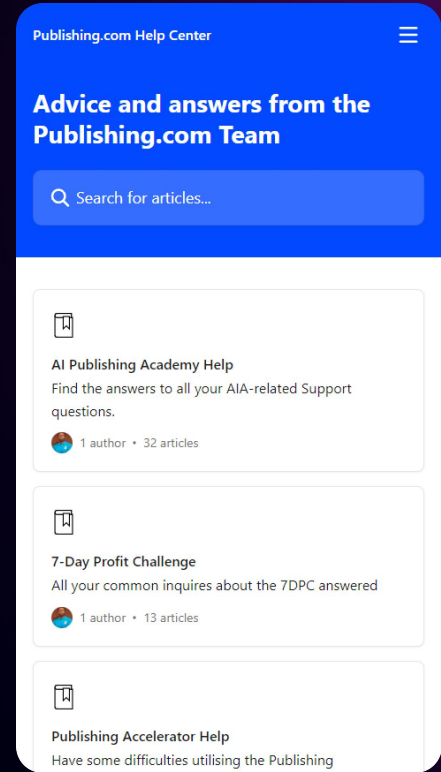

We would rather spend more time going deep into a good question rather than rushing from one question to the next. Therefore, we will pick and choose the best questions.

I completed 7 day profitable challenge book, it is much longer than what require. I ned to proof read it and do formatting on Reedsy. I wrote the book with Microsoft word and have bolded titles. I am wondering does my document have to be done in google docs and do I have to do some formatting, like type of the font, size, what to keep bolded. I have ten chapters and at the end sources or references included. Can I use grammarly for proofreading and plagiarism. since my books is written using my own writing and chatGPT. I like how it turned to look. The title of the book is: Why become Vegetarian? I will see if I can include the cover here:

Any comments on the covers?

I have ordered kdspy and have to install it. It is saying that I also have access to KDR0I. Am I supposed to do anything with this? I also have the KDP registration but it is saying that I am already registered with an account. Am I able to use my same account or do I need to make a different account for KDP registration

Do I need to have my cover ready in order to send the rest of the book in to Ultimate book formatting?

When trying to open the new incognito window, I cannot find the word "file" to open a new window. As far as I know I am in google chrome and I see where I can open a new tab but am I supposed to see "file" at the top? Sorry this is my first time and I am not very tech savvy.

Hi Coaches, I published a book in 2022 and it did well, winning several awards in the Literary Competitions I entered it in, which my previous publisher encouraged. It didn't do as well in terms of sales, however. I have learned so much through this course, as I am in the final stages of publishing my second book. My question is, can I change the title of my book, and re-publish it? It is called, "Shelter from Our Secrets, Silence & Shame; How Our Stories Can Keep Us Stuck or Set Us Free." I would like to only change the first 3 words and publish it as "Secrets, Silence & Shame; How Our Stories Can Keep Us Stuck or Set Us Free" with a new vibrant cover design. KDP does allow for a slight title change. What are your thoughts?

Thank you,

~Rebecca

Hi Coaches, I am about to generate my book outline. I had several customer research generated. I finally decided on one. There were things in a few of the others generations that I would like to include. How should I do this? Thank you.

I have a 32,555 word manuscript i wanted to know where do I find out how many pages that is for a paperback and hardcover book or would they tell me that where i get the book formatted?

Brian Nolan

I have my first 30k+ book out in ebook and paperback. My question now is about copywriting. ACX wants to know that you have the copy-write to publish the audiobook. I'm at the auditioning of narrators phase. Meanwhile, I have submitted my application for copy-write, but now I'm getting pushback from the copy-write people about the AI based content. I have images that are AI generated in the book, and they boo-hoo'd that. Fine. But what do I tell them about the text content? They are asking for description of how much AI was involved. What do I need to say to them so that they will allow the copywriter permission? To me, the content is mine, but with AI assistance to fill in the gaps, followed by heavy editing of AI generated content. Is that going to be good enough? Thanks for addressing my question.
