Today's Q&A is on:

- Finding a book topic
- Establishing Proof of Concept for your book topic

 General questions will resume on the next Q&A. ***

OPEN Q&A

Submit your Topic or Proof of Concept questions live on the call in the Zoom Q&A field. We will pick and choose the best questions to answer.

The logo consists of the letters 'FYI' in a bold, white, sans-serif font, centered on a blue rectangular background that has a slightly distressed or torn-edge appearance.

There are many students on this call, all at different points in their publishing journey. We receive many questions and do our best to choose the ones that are applicable and helpful to the majority of attendees on this call.

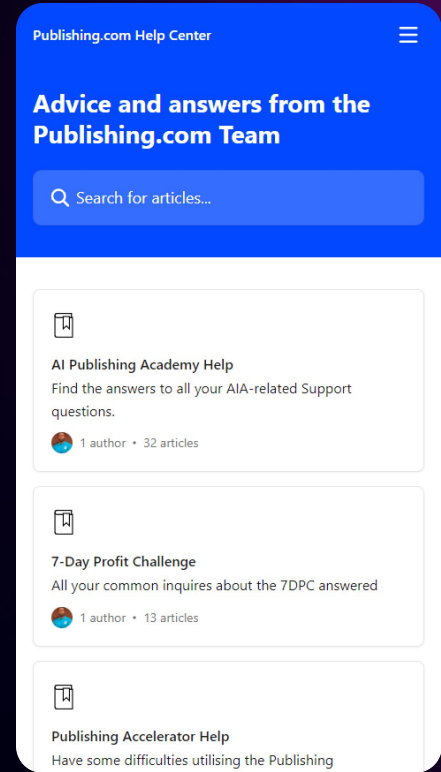

We would rather spend more time going deep into a good question rather than rushing from one question to the next. Therefore, we will pick and choose the best questions.

How To Find A Topic

What IS a Book Topic?

A good book topic:

Solves a specific problem, solved in a specific way for a specific group of people

- Clearly state what the book is actually about
- Terms people are searching on Amazon
- Specific (not vague)

Good book topic = usually between 2 - 6 words

SIT, STRETCH, and STRENGTHEN

A 14- Day Chair Exercise
Program for Seniors

JORDAN FRANK

Who Said You Can't Stay Fit and Healthy As You Grow Up?

Unfortunately, the body's balance, coordination, and ability to bounce back from injuries weaken as you age. That is why implementing regular exercise in your daily routine is essential to prevent fall incidents, strengthen your body and improve your overall well-being.

Does this mean you have to spend your money on fancy equipment or overpriced gym memberships?

Of course not!

Presenting "SIT, STRETCH, AND STRENGTHEN: A 14-DAY CHAIR EXERCISE PROGRAM FOR SENIORS" by Jordan Frank!

This game-changing book presents a 14-day chair exercise plan specifically designed for seniors. The book explains the benefits of exercise in detail while walking you through everything you need to perform the program safely in the comfort of your home.

Hello! how are people publishing about topics they aren't actively engaged in? my topic is one that i am not an expert in by any means it is simply something im interested in learning about. however, the outline generated via pubai includes my experience/anectotes etc in said topic. im worried if i were to reveal that i wrote the book despite my inexperience, that it will not sell. thank you!

Dominique

I'm struggling with POC. Can you please help me determine if either of these have POC?

postpartum books for new moms

- dementia care givers guide

- what to do in retirement

Margaret

(Choosing a Topic Question).

1. Please help me run POC on Gut health generally vs Gut Health For Women. I am trying to decide which of them will be more profitable for me.
2. If you decide to use a pen name for your books, would you need to include an author page? Because how would this work out if your person (a pen name) is not real

Thanks

Stephen Parkin

For Q&A Thurs 19th June 3pm. POC question. On the topic / search term "caregiving" there are 3 that meet POC. They all look very similar and are about caring for someone with dementia and avoiding burn out. (This was the kind of book I was interested in writing before I even tested POC!) Is it worth even trying to compete with these books? I am not sure there could be another angle on the topic. They all look like they are AIA student books also. Thank you

Yakoba

For POC, if an author is a doctor or licensed in some way, but are not 'famous' do we still use include them in determining POC?

Allen

So, while I am only a little over two weeks into this programs, while searching for topics and titles and intending to complete a few books before year end, I thought that my first two books should be on topics that I could bundle together, to create a third revenue source. Would that be a good idea? Having said that I have 4 topics in mind that looks promising with POC...which two book combination would you suggest could be a good bundle? If any. I have an idea but would like affirmation. These are my choices:

- Building resilience for growth,
- Self love
- Relationship anxiety
- How to stop being a narcissist

Hi Coaches! After spending some time doing POC I have decided on 2 topics. 1 is 'life skills for young adults' and the other one is 'social skills for teens'. I've decided that despite competition, I have a genuine interest in these topics and I can make a better book! Could you guys search 'life skills for young adults' just to help me confirm so I can go on ahead. Thank you so much!

I need help finding POC for this topic: Life Lessons for Lasting Success: Military, Family, and Entrepreneurship

When doing POC, does it matter if 1 of our 3 qualifying books comes from a non-independent publisher? I didn't see that as a disqualifier in any of the training materials, but it seems like it would make competition a bit harder.

Mel

I wanted to ask if my niche is ok before proceeding with an outline - I believe the proof of concept is there, unless I'm doing it wrong! And since this is my first try I wanted to get some support

I wanted to do the topic "change your life" and eventually, do a series. Starting with "Change your focus, change your life", "change your energy change your life" etc that I can bundle.

When I type "change your life" into amazon kdspy shows 4 books all making over $1000/mo with around 150 reviews but the numbers seem off (one has 0 views and 4500/ mo income?) These are the numbers im getting:

163 views $2599, 135 views $3171 ,71 views $1563 (same book as above), 13 views $2925

0 views $4505 (workbook not book)

Can you tell me if this seems ok to move forward with?
