Submit your questions live on the call in the Zoom Q&A field. We will pick and choose the best the questions to answer.

There are many students on this call, all at different points in their publishing journey. We receive many questions and do our best to choose the ones that are applicable and helpful to the majority of attendees on this call.

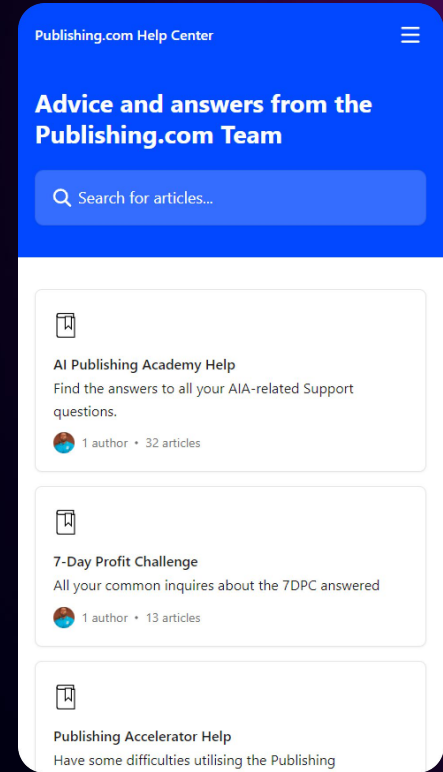

We would rather spend more time going deep into a good question rather than rushing from one question to the next. Therefore, we will pick and choose the best questions.

My next question regards Amazon Ads. My first 4 campaigns are working. 1600+ impressions have come through in the first 3 weeks without any sales. I have 36 reviews with a 4.9 rating on my book, 'Master Retirement Planning with Ease'. I have adjusted the bids once. I have not done any negative targeting yet. Here's my question. Do I simply need to be patient with increasing reviews (Pubby is excellent) before sales clicks start to come through? Thanks.

What is the correct version that we need to use the full functions of ChatGPT, with cost (ie. 4, 4.0, 40)? Thanks

Hi, coaches. I will publish this week on Amazon under a pen name. One of the lessons in Module 5 said to fabricate an author bio and a "this-person-doesn't-exist" author picture for a pen name. Is there a reason I shouldn't submit my own bio and my own picture, even under a pen name? What do you coaches do? Thanks for your help.

Hi Coaches! It's only been 11 days since my Amazon Ads started. I've had a total of 5083 impressions, 8 clicks, and zero sales. Do I need to wait to adjust my ads for another few days? I will watch a replay of Amazon Ads Tune-up since there were none scheduled the last time I looked, which was last week. I did sell 125 books during a free eBook promo from Nov 4-6. My next two-day free promo is scheduled for 11/29 and 11/30. Thanks for your help.

I have written an instruction book. The top selling books in my category are all written in authoritative style with some personal aspects. I have generated 3 different manuscript styles with an authoritative basis. Authoritative, Authoritative-Personal, Authoritative-Personal-humorous. Although similar there is a distinct difference between the Authoritative and the. Authoritative-Personal-humorous. We like the addition of humorous as a manuscript style. I watched video on Creating your book and AI Ghostwriting where the narrator gives some ideas on voice selection. The second suggestion is to look at other bestsellers in the niche. Our Question is If The voice of other books in Authoritative and personal, would adding humor be detrimental to sales?

Hi Coaches,

I'd love your feedback on some new topics/titles I am working on. I am in the mental health field, but obviously not an AF, and found the genre of Self-Help to be so huge, it was hard for me to narrow it down. But here goes:

Topic:#1 Self-Help, Sub-Topic: Mindfulness

Title : "The Mindful Path to Your Resilient Life; Strategies to Improve Health, Ignite Happiness & Increase Resilience"

Topic #2: Self-Help, Sub-Topic: Eating Disorders

Title: "When Dieting Becomes Disordered Eating; Mindful & Body-Positive Strategies to Enhance Recovery & Rebuild a Healthy Relationship with Food and Yourself"

Hello coaches. I am struggling with POC for topic "No Grid Survival". It would seem I have POC , however I need clarification as some of the actual books contain words like project, bible or 10 in one so I am not sure if these are more like bundles. I was moving toward surviving or prepping for a home in a grid down situation not so much building a home off the grid. Thank you in advance.

Kathy Burleigh

I need a 2nd pair of eyes on my sub-titles, please. I've looked at them till I'm cross-eyed!

I am trying Dall-E for the first time and noticed that the images that it produced are quite low-resolution, and only about 120-150 KB in size. Is this image quality good enough for printing, and does it make the book look less professional? Also, some essential parts of the images are missing and/or truncated, eg. one leg missing, eyes not formed properly, etc. How do we get around such issues?

After receiving feedback from QSA and last Tuesday Q&A, I have been re-working my sub-title, using the 'great title checklist' and ChatGPT. I like one in particular but it is 189 characters. Note: My 99 Designs cover is finalized and all other covers, etc. have been created; cognizant to make any changes align properly on the cover image:

https://drive.google.com/file/d/1P1mXO9mD6bX4D5qg3CRz_eWJNW2Gpqm9/view?usp=sharing

Original:

Companion Planting Guide for Beginners: Cultivate Healthy, Productive Gardens Naturally Using Easy Eco-Friendly Techniques in Any Size Space (140 characters)

QSA suggested adding seasonal aspect which aligns with my book and Q&A said see no benefits and too short.

Elizabeth Martin

I just started the free Facebook Review Method; posted on a couple of sites and sent a few copies out. But now I will likely be going back to the designers that produced my covers (99 Designs and independent formatter who produced the remaining covers) and have the title and the sub-title on the cover re-worked.

Question is - is it OK to keep asking for early readers with the post that has the old cover? Maybe wait to send any more out until the modifications to cover and formatted manuscript are changed?

Randall Browning

In the AI Publishing Academy Course, Section 2, Choose a Topic, the speaker says to book a call with a coach once you've found your topic or POC. Is that an option for those of us who are not in the Accelerator program? If so, then how do we book this session? If not, it should probably be removed from the video, as it's a bit confusing. Next question - Please explain the "Success Call". Is this a call to see if you're right for the Accelerator program, or is it a call for a bit of extra coaching in the regular program? Thanks very much!

I did the very thing we are not supposed to do and generated a 30k book that probably doesn't pass POC using publishing.ai, but I don't want to waste my credit. Can I just follow through with it & then just do right from now on?

Tammi Stone

When uploading my book content to kDP for publishing do I include a blank page #1 as a placeholder for my cover or do I delete page 1 of the template I'm using? It's a coloring book.
