OPEN Q&A

Submit your questions live on the call in the Zoom Q&A field. We will pick and choose the best the questions to answer.

There are many students on this call, all at different points in their publishing journey. We receive many questions and do our best to choose the ones that are applicable and helpful to the majority of attendees on this call.

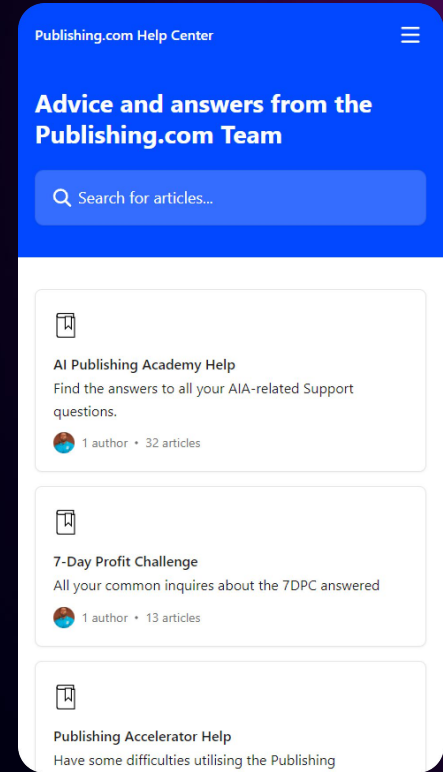

We would rather spend more time going deep into a good question rather than rushing from one question to the next. Therefore, we will pick and choose the best questions.

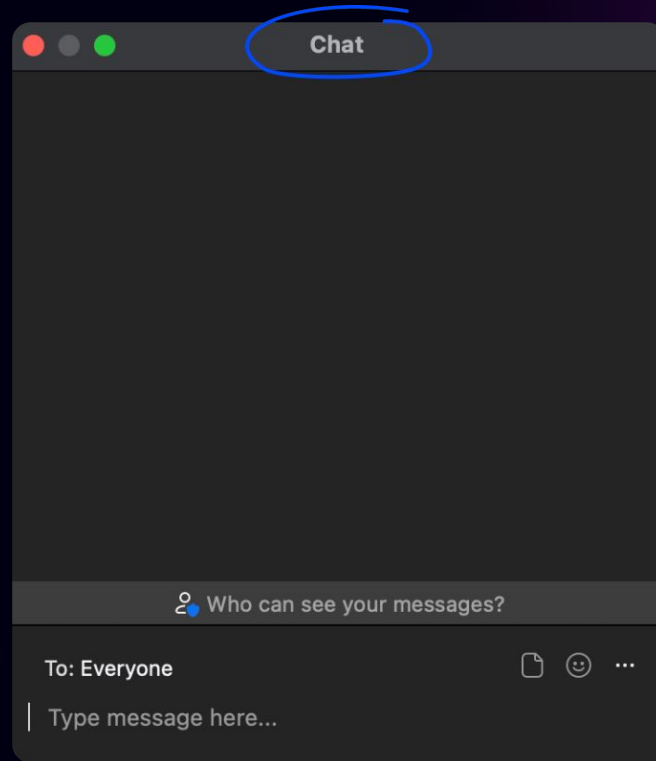

Visit our Help Center at help.publishing.com

- Account related (resetting password, Facebook group, etc.)
- KDSpy, incognito, Chrome etc.
- 7 Day Profit Challenge
- Pen names

In the Help Center, you will find clear answers (with videos) to all of these questions, so we will likely skip all questions related to these topics.

Please review and comment on my proposed book title "Aphasia Workbook for Midlife (45-64) Adults" and subtitle " Large print, clear illustrations, clinically proven exercises to improve speech and language skills; cognitive and motor skills; and regain independence and perform everyday conversations or tasks without constant assistance from others."

Michael Hays

Topic(s) involving photography normally associated with color images. Topics have POC and titles seem to possess substantial interest as denoted by sales. I understand AIA prefers b&w for cost savings but many readers may want to see color images. Comments?

Hello.... What is the ideal number of words or characters for the book description that goes on the back of your book? The description that Publishing.ai generated is too long. Also, other than the back cover of the book, where else do you use the book description?

Thanks

DeVera Jackson-Garber

Please provide feedback re. my book title. I am trying to decide between these two:

Thank you.

Do you advise new students to attend these calls? I attended my first one and it was sort of overwhelming. Is it best to first get through the lessons and perhaps go back and listen to the recordings?

hi! im still deciding on my book topic but there are certain book topics on the best sellers list that don't really work as audiobooks for example coloring books or like certain games and puzzles books etc. etc.. do you recommend finding a book topic i can turn into an audiobook instead or do you think it's fine to chose those types of books if the book topic has a really good poc? :)

Patrick
